Re: Response to Letter dated December 18, 2007, regarding October Quarterly Report (7/1/07 - 9/30/07)

Dear Ms. Hubbard:

This letter is a response to the above-referenced letter. An amended report has been filed for this period. Further explanation regarding each point is set forth below, corresponding to the number of the issue in your letter.

1. The contribution in question was inadvertently deposited by a staff member who believed that the suffix to the corporation "Ltd." referred to a partnership. We have refunded the contribution and a copy of the check is enclosed.

2. We have reviewed the contributions identified as possibly excessive and addressed each below. One was the result of an improper entry. The American Bankers Association PAC correctly designated contributions for the 2008 General, but they were not properly coded when entered. Those have been corrected to reflect the designated period. The Physical Therapy PAC did not designate the General Election on its last contribution, therefore we have refunded $1,000 to it because we are outside of the period in which redesignations may be made. Gages LLC and Gage Properties, LLC, are two different limited liability companies, but share the same member. As a result, those contributions have been put in the name of that member, Steve Gage. As with the other individuals discussed below, his contribution could have been redesignated to the General Election, but discovery of the contributions was made outside the applicable 60-day period and therefore the excessive portion has been refunded. A copy of the check and accompanying letter are enclosed. The remainder could have been resolved by redesignation or reattribution, but fall outside of the applicable 60-day periods, and
